

Website Coordinator Report
Fall Assembly 2023

- The website has been updated with a new feature. All the meeting cards now include a Google Maps direction feature. Click on it and it loads a navigation map to your meeting.
- Some pages on the current website have never been changed since its launch. If your piece of the Utah Al-Anon website has a page, please review it, and consider its development needs. I would be happy to collaborate with you and implement improvements.
- As your service groups updates times/places/dates/addresses that may be listed on the website please remember to email me with a request to make the appropriate update on the website. I do not read all minutes of all meetings. I just post them!
- If you have any ideas for website improvements, please email them to me. The last thing on my improvements list was the navigation feature so I need new fodder to contemplate!
